

CARSON MUMFORD

Carson Mumford was born in December of 2001. He is famous for being a BMX Rider. He has cited Jeremy McGrath as one of his biggest influences. As a motocross rider he was hailed as one of the sport's brightest young stars at age ten, when he won his first Loretta Lynn AMA National Motocross Championship. In 2015, he signed a 6-year deal with Amsoil Honda.

The 18-year-old bmx rider was born in United States. He received his first PW50 for Christmas when he was two years old. He grew up in Simi Valley, California and began receiving major attention as a mini bike rider for dominating riders of significantly larger bikes.

Bike Carson rode in this video:

Honda CRF 250r

